

ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT SYSTEM POLICY

AM CONFERENCES & MEETINGS, a company specializing in the organization and management of congresses, conventions, corporate events, as well as travel agency, is committed to carry out all its activities responsibly, integrating environmental protection as a strategic pillar of its management.

According to the requirements of the UNE-EN ISO 14001:2015 regulation, AM Conferences & Meetings establishes the following operating principles:

1. Environmental protection and pollution prevention

We are committed to identifying, assessing, and managing the environmental aspects arising from our activities, especially those related to:

- resource and energy consumption,
- waste generation,
- travel associated with business activity,
- and the use of materials and services linked to event management.

We work to minimize negative impacts and foster practices that contribute to the prevention of pollution and climate change.

2. Compliance with legal requirements and other commitments

AM Conferences & Meetings guarantees compliance with the applicable environmental legislation as well as other requirements voluntarily subscribed to by the organization, ensuring continuous monitoring of the regulatory framework and the obligations arising from our activities.

3. Efficient use of resources and improvement of environmental performance

We promote responsible and efficient use of natural resources, prioritizing:

- reduction of energy consumption,
- optimization of materials used in events,
- minimization and proper management of waste,
- and selection of suppliers and solutions based on environmental criteria

We establish environmental objectives and goals that enable us to continuously improve our performance and move towards more sustainable and aligned working models.

4. Communication, awareness-raising, and participation

We foster environmental training and awareness among our staff, promoting responsible behaviors and active participation in improving the Environmental Management System and combating climate change.

5. Continuous improvement of the Environmental Management System

The management of AM Conferences & Meetings is committed to maintaining, reviewing, and continuously improving the Environmental Management System, ensuring the necessary resources for its effective implementation and guaranteeing that this policy is understood, applied, and communicated at all levels of the organization.

Management of AM Conferences & Meetings, S.L.